

Another Norwich Case

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Norwich Folks.

Just another report of a case in Norwich. Another typical case. Kidney ailments raveled in Norwich with Don's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Roland Ockery, 283 Franklin St., Norwich, says: "Pains in the small of my back caused me great suffering. Whenever I stooped, sharp twinges darted through my body and I was handicapped in doing my household work. I felt miserable when I began using Don's Kidney Pills, procured from N. D. Sevin & Son's Drug Store. Their good effect was soon noticeable and I continued taking them until the trouble was removed."

NO MORE TROUBLE. Some years later Mrs. Ockery said: "You may continue to publish my former statement praising Don's Kidney Pills. They cured me of kidney trouble and I have been in good health since. Others of my family have taken this remedy with good results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Don's Kidney Pills — the same that Mrs. Ockery had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Inevitable Children Often Need Kickapoo Worm Killer.

There is a reason for the disagreeable and fretful nature of many children. Think of the child when the child's body is possessed by tiny worms sapping its vitality and clogging its functions. Whatever may be the cause — "that children have worms is a fact." Your child's peevishness and irritability has a cause. Give Kickapoo Worm Killer chance and if worms are there this humanly harmless remedy will eliminate the annoying parasites. 25c a box.

NO THOUGHT OF DEATH.

Brakeman Charles H. Lester Felt Too Well to Quit Work.

Brakeman Charles H. Lester, who died suddenly in Norwich Saturday evening, remarked only a few days ago to a Bulletin correspondent that he felt so well he had no idea of resigning and taking advantage of the company's pension system. "I wouldn't know what to do with myself if I were off the road," he said.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. Mary Choquette.

At the Sacred Heart church in Wauregan Monday morning a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. C. Mathieu at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Choquette, who died Saturday morning. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. L. E. Kennedy was funeral director.

Edward Flynn.

The funeral of Edward Flynn, who died in Elmville Friday night, was held from his home in that place Monday morning with funeral services at St. James' church here. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery, Maple street.

The bearers were James Keegan, Clarence Conner, William O'Brien, John O'Brien, Michael McCormack and Martin Fitzsimmons. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

AT LOWER INTEREST.

Floating Indebtedness of Town, Nearly $100,000, to Be Favorably Placed.

The special finance committee appointed at the annual town meeting in October has reported to the selectmen that arrangements have been made for placing the entire floating indebtedness of the town, something less than $100,000, at an exceptionally favorable rate of interest—slightly over four per cent. Under the plan proposed the town will be able to pay up this floating debt would be secured by short term notes. It was stated that the most of the floating indebtedness of the town is bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. The new proposition has, of course, nothing to do with the bonded indebtedness of the town.

It seems very probable at this time that certain incidental considerations that present appear likely to temporarily delay the putting into effect of the proposed arrangement will be adjusted in the near future. No opposition to the proposal has been heard.

HANGING AROUND GARAGE.

Suspicious Stranger, Fired at Three Times, Haunts Milligan Automobile Station.

It is now well established that Wauregan has either an exceedingly dangerous maniac or a criminal of unlimited nerve and daring. The man, who is being of no special advantage when his work is considered. It may be he is actually sane, but he is not sane enough to state his name.

Wauregan has him, but that village is at least the site of his operations. Milligan's Wauregan garage, robbed of more than $800 worth of tires and other automobile accessories a few days ago, seems to be the special objective. Early Sunday evening—about 8 o'clock—the powerful electric headlights of an automobile rolling along the Wauregan-Central Village highway, showed a man skulking about the garage, which is somewhat isolated from other buildings and which was closed at the time.

Going down with another man to investigate, Arthur A. Milligan, the proprietor, found the stranger in the vicinity of the building and it was quickly ascertained that he wanted no word with them, he endeavored to get away with as little fuss as possible. He refused to answer a hail as to what he wanted and getting around to the rear of the building, made off through the field, a shot fired after him falling to bring him to a halt.

Three hours later the man was again found close up behind the garage and again ran like a deer through the fields when he found that he had been seen. Several shots fired after him failed to stop the man.

These incidents followed another like occurrence of late, last Friday night.

Committee Asks For Bids.

The special committee on the construction of the trade school building has asked for bids for the contract, the bids to be opened November 23.

Police Woman Keeps the Peace.

South Meadow street has a Polish Amazon that is getting a rating as a "special officer." Nowadays when anything in the way of a belligerent proceeding starts down in that section, and the starts are frequent, Katie gets her club and goes out peacekeeping. She's a winner at the game and considers enough to take her vittles home after she has put them down and out.

WOULD NOT PAY FARES.

So Two Disputing Passengers Were Taxed $1.85 Each.

Deputy Judge Bradford presided at a session of the city court Monday morning, when four cases were disposed of. Two Polish men were charged with refusal of payment of fare on an electric car Saturday evening. The men were coming south from Webster to the city. Their claim was that before reaching West Thompson they had paid their fares through to Putnam. At West Thompson there is a change of cars, and when the new conductor requested the men to pay an additional five cents each, they refused, claiming that they finally got themselves locked up. Because they would not pay as they should have done they had to spend all of Sunday in cells at the police station awaiting the disposition of their case. Judge Bradford allowed them to go by paying actual costs, amounting to $1.85 each.

JAIL AND FINES.

Meted Out to Two Men For South Meadow Street Row.

Peter Stokel and John Compens, who engaged in a week end, post-funeral spree and row, were severely dealt with when presented to the city court Monday morning. They were charged with intoxication and breach of the peace. Stokel was fined $100 and put in a row in the South Meadow Street section and in the melee Compens was in the chin by a man named Stokel. The men could not pay and went to jail.

Serious and frequent trouble in the section where the men came from may result in several measures to prevent recurrence of it, but in any event the two men who were sentenced Monday had earned everything they got.

Homan Music Company at Bradley.

Bradley theatre patrons were a unit Monday in declaring that the Homan Music Revue company was about the classiest organization of the kind that has played this city in a long time. The organization presented a clever sketch called the "Ten Parity" the arrangement allowing for the introduction of a number of pleasing features along the order usually found with such shows and some that were original. The company has some excellent soloists, all are good singers and the costuming and stage settings are attractive. All the members of the troupe are of the alive class and clean cut.

There is a Canadian with the show who is one of the surprises of the bill in the vocal line. He is Gene Beaudry. He is small of stature, but has a bass voice that makes one wonder how such a great volume of vocal music can come from such a little man. His singing in the duo is one of the big hits of the show, and he is almost entitled to be described as a human organ, so deep and mellow are his tones and of such range.

Border Line Watched For Poachers.

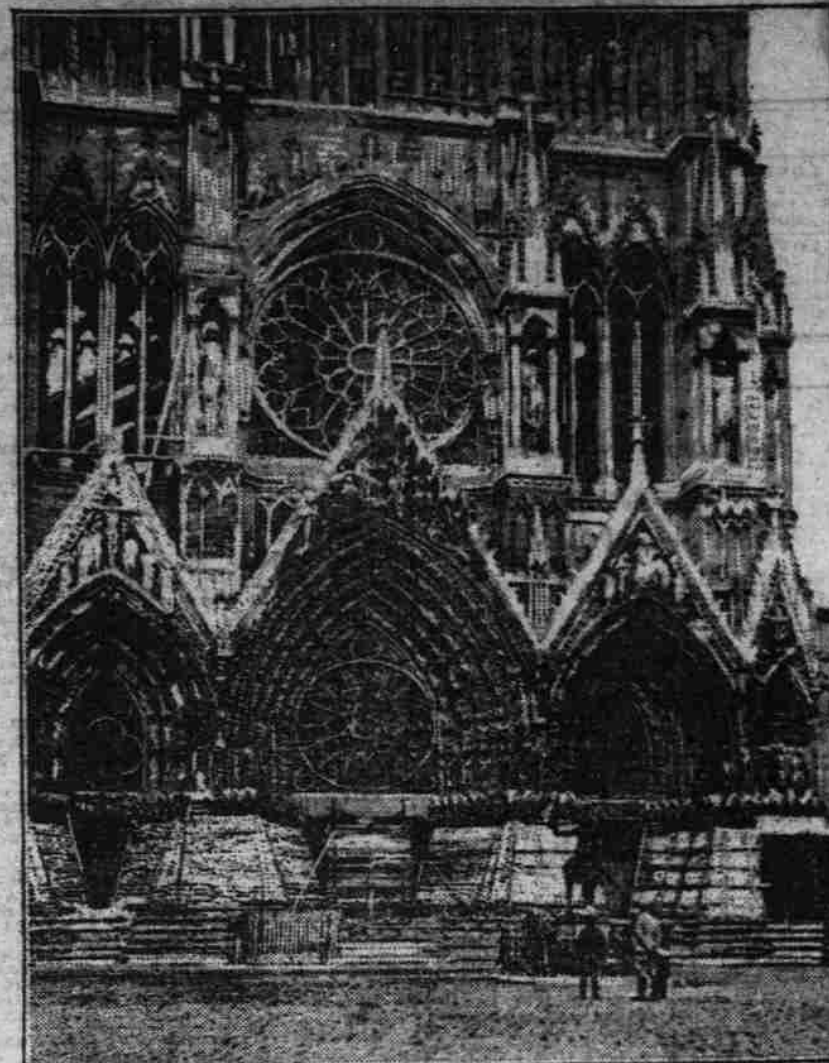

John Peterson, who works on the Bernard Warren farm in the eastern part of the town, has a deer that weighed 135 pounds, out of the number that have been taken recently in this section under the recently effective law.

This week is the open season on deer in Massachusetts and along the Massachusetts border of the town of Woodstock and Thompson there will be much hunting—on the Bay State side, of course. The hunting has in years past driven a number of animals into this state and sometimes the hunters have followed them, but a close watch will be kept this week to prevent as far as possible the violation of Connecticut's near-neutrality to the deer.

Darby—The Polish people of the associated towns held a mass meeting Sunday morning at the St. Michael's church, at which several speakers from New York were heard. The celebration was held to mark the twentieth anniversary of the Polish alliance. In the morning at 10 o'clock they attended high mass at St. Michael's church, where a special sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Father Wackl.

When the man was heard about the garage. That night a window of the building had been forced open before the presence of the man was discovered. Other shots were fired after him upon that occasion, but the treatment seems to have had no more effect so far as his conduct was concerned than would have a slap on the wrist with a feather box.

These incidents, following so closely after two disastrous fires, one of which destroyed the barn of Mr. Milligan's father-in-law, John A. Bates, a week ago tonight, have given the people of Wauregan and all of this section a special interest in the case. The man is apparently one who will stop at nothing.

RHEIMS CATHEDRAL SHOWING PROTECTIVE MEASURES

PHOTOGRAPH BY INVENTOR MARCONI

"The marvelous cathedral," wrote Pierre Loti, the famous French novelist, after a visit to Rheims. "It stood for ages of inactivity of stone, and now it is in rage, pierced with a thousand holes. In the effort to protect it a little in future they have piled up a mountain of sandbags around the columns of the portico." The accompanying photograph of the facade of the Cathedral of Rheims, showing the sandbags to which Loti refers, was taken by Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy.

PUBLICATION OF MILITARY NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY

Secretary Garrison to Urges Report of Army General Staff.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Immediate publication of the report of the army general staff on the military needs of the country, differing materially from the administration's estimate of the army plan, will be urged upon President Wilson by Secretary Garrison. The secretary, who has described the plan to be recommended to congress as only a step in the right direction, said today he believed the public was entitled to all available information relating to the national defense.

The general staff has made an exhaustive study of the problem of defending the country and its insular possessions. Its report, it is understood, recommends increasing the regular army to 250,000 men, permanent with the colors and with reserves of 300,000 carefully trained men to fill in this force. Behind this line it is proposed to have a force of a million men with at least a year's training, giving the country an army of about 1,500,000 fully equipped and easily mobilized. No special training activities have been given out and details are not available. The administration plan was prepared by Secretary Garrison and a special board of officers and after careful scrutiny of the staff report it was decided that the staff proposals were in line with the nature of the continental army scheme, which would reach a total of half a billion dollars in six years. The first-year's expenditures under the staff plan, it is said, would approach $400,000,000 and the continuing expense be proportionately heavy.

The staff estimates, it is reported that it takes at least a year to train a soldier fit to join the fighting line. The continental army programme contemplates only six months of hard training, distributed in two periods through three years. It was adopted to diminish the expense and yet produce a force of citizen soldiers, nearly a million strong to support the regular army which it is proposed to increase to 250,000 men from the 105,000 now in the service.

TRIAL OF COMMANDER OF ARMY AVIATION SCHOOL

In the Air Only 73 Minutes From July 10, 1913 to April 24, 1915.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 15.—Captain Arthur S. Cowan, commanding the army aviation school at San Diego, was not in an army aeroplane from December 31, 1914, to April 24, 1915, at which time charges of incompetence and favoritism were preferred against him, according to army records produced here today in the trial by courtmartial of Lieutenant Colonel Lewis E. Goodier, judge advocate of the army, according to these records. From July 10, 1913, to the date of the filing of the charges, Captain Cowan was in the air a total of seventy-three minutes, according to these records. Colonel Goodier is charged with having improperly advised junior officers that the school was a "private club" and that the school was a "private club" and that the school was a "private club."

His defense is that he furnished only such information as would be expected from one in his position, but the case has developed into an airing of the general situation at San Diego, where eight lieutenants have been killed since April, 1913.

FOR PREVENTION OF SCHOOLHOUSE FIRES

Several Recommendations by Special Commission of Experts.

Boston, Nov. 15.—Several recommendations for the prevention of schoolhouse fires were adopted today by the special commission of experts appointed by the state board of education to consider the matter. The recommendations will be sent to the schools of all the cities and towns in the state. The principal suggestions are, the isolation by fireproof material, of classrooms from the rest of the building, the installation of self-closing fire doors and the elimination of rubbish areas.

DEPORTATION OF ALIENS

Because of Activity of Submarines in the Mediterranean.

Boston, Nov. 15.—Deportation of aliens on vessels bound for Italy was ordered stopped by instructions received by Commissioner H. J. Skeriff from Washington today. The activity of German submarines in the waters about the British Isles resulted in a similar order affecting transportation of aliens from that country a few months ago, but that order was lifted recently.

TO APPLY SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST ACT TO WAR PLOTS

Department of Justice Handicapped By Lack of Specific Laws.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Handicapped by the lack of specific laws to protect the nation's neutrality, the department of justice has turned to one of its old standbys and is investigating alleged war plots with a view of inflicting criminal penalties under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The inquiry, it was learned tonight, is directed principally at plots supposed to have been formed in connection with the sale of munitions to the United States. The department's theory is that if there is a conspiracy to interfere with the manufacture of munitions it is conspiracy in restraint of interstate and foreign commerce.

Publication of notices in foreign language newspapers calling on subjects of Austria and Germany to quit work in munition plants is said to have been one of many methods employed to bring about strikes and disrupt the organizations of plants making war munitions for the allies.

The investigation has not progressed far enough to enable officials to tell whether indictments can be obtained against the conspirators under the Sherman anti-trust act.

Middletown.—At the special meeting of the Middlesex County Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock association last week, it was voted to present two silver cups of the value of $25 each to the Meriden association for the poultry show to be given the last two days of December and January 1 in Meriden.
